November 7, 2018 Isabel Allende, In the Midst of Winter

An unexpected and moving love story between two people who thought they were deep into the winter of their lives. Evelyn, a young, undocumented immigrant from Guatemala, turns up at Richard's house seeking help. At a loss, he asks his tenant Lucia Maraz—a 62-year-old lecturer from Chile—for her advice. These three very different people are brought together in a mesmerizing story that moves from present-day Brooklyn to Guatemala in the recent past to 1970s Chile and Brazil, sparking the beginning of a long overdue love story between Richard and Lucia.

Andre Malraux, Man's Fate

As explosive and immediate today as when it was originally published in 1933, Man's Fate, an account of a crucial episode in the early days of the Chinese Revolution, foreshadows the contemporary world and brings to life the profound meaning of the revolutionary impulse for the individuals involved. As a study of conspiracy and conspirators, of men caught in the desperate clash of ideologies, betrayal, expediency, and free will, Andre Malraux's novel remains unequalled.
